ALBANY

James E. Good

James E. Good of Albany, better known as Ed Good, who passed away at the home of John Adams of West Stoneham, where he had been staying for some months, was born in Green Oaks, Colchester, Nova Scotia, Nov. 28, 1853, the son of Matthew and Susan Good. At the age of sixteen he came to Albany and since that time had spent the greater part of his life there. He married Clara Kneeland, and a daughter, Ina, and a son, Roy, were born to them. The daughter, Ina, an aged sister, Mrs. Maria Good Kimball, and nieces and nephews survive him. He had been in failing health for some time. He was very fond of children and many a little tot was rocked to sleep in his arms. Ready always to lend a hand in sickness, sorrow and trouble, his acts of kindness will be much missed by all who knew him. Services were held at the South schoolhouse, May 2, conducted by J. S. Greenleaf of Bethel. Rev. R. C. Dalzell spoke words of comfort to the grieving relatives and friends. The many flowers bore silent tokens of esteem to another of us who has joined that vast throng of departed forms we see only in our mind's eye. Interment was in the family lot in the Songo cemetery, a short distance from the home where he had lived for years.

There will be a Circle supper at the church vestry, Hunt's Corner, Thursday night, May 9.

W. L. Beckler, who has been ill, is some improved.

REPUBLICAN VOTERS CAN CHOOSE

From the Bridgton News
Edward E. Chase, of Cape Elizabeth, who shortly after the state convention, came into the limelight as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Representative to Congress from this district, which now comprises the counties of Cumberland, York, Oxford and Sagadahoc, running on a dripping wet platform, and Carroll L. Beedy, who has resigned the First District for several years, were among the principal speakers at the Lincoln Club dinner, recently held in Portland. Mr. Beedy said, among other things:

"I believe in the retention of the 15th amendment in the Federal Constitution and that it is the duty of a Representative in Congress to vote in accordance with the solemnly pledged will of the people in his own state on any outstanding issue."

Mr. Chase on the other hand says in effect:

"If I am elected to Congress I will attack national prohibition as a national law. Regardless of the result of any popular referendum on the subject, unless it be confirmed by overwhelming majorities. If the people do not like what I do, their remedy will lie in the next election. I will not surrender my convictions in order to remain in office."

There lies one of the many outstanding differences in the two candidates. Mr. Beedy says that he not only believes in prohibition, but that he also believes that it is the duty of every representative of the people to carry out the mandates of the people whom he is representing.

Mr. Chase, apparently does not consider that a representative to Congress or any other representative of the people, is a public servant, but a law unto himself and intimates that if the people do not like what he does when he goes to Congress, the remedy lies in the next election. Whatever anyone may believe as to the merits or the disadvantages of the prohibition law, there can be no argument as to Mr. Beedy's stand. He is elected to represent the people and he is absolutely correct when he asserts that he shall carry out the mandates of the voters who elect him.

The Republican party of the state of Maine has declared for the retention of the 15th amendment and for the strict enforcement of the law. The Democratic party has declared for a popular referendum on the question.

Those who believe as the Democrats of this state apparently do and who also believe that the prohibitory question outweighs all other national issues and that the long service of Congressman Beedy, at Washington, stand for nothing, have their remedy in the Democratic party.

Republicans who believe in representative government and in party rule, cannot conscientiously vote either in the primary or in the September election, for a candidate, who openly asserts that the party platform means nothing to him and that regardless of the results of any popular referendum, he will vote, not as their representative, but in accordance with the dictates of his own conscience.

Mr. Chase made a valiant fight for a wet plank in the Republican state convention—and lost. The convention declaring for the retention of the law. If he cannot abide by the mandates of the Republican party, as expressed by the delegates to the convention, he should either run as an independent or throw his lot in with the Democrats, who believe as he does, on this important issue."

WEST BUCKFIELD

Mrs. Hattie Buck entertains the Sewaswego Club Thursday. Mrs. Louise Russell and Johnny, Mrs. Mollie Pearl and Ethel Pearl, spent Friday with Mrs. Eugene Fuller. Warren Buck has traded for two cows and two calves with Clara Treavor of West Paris.

Dorothy Millett of Waterford is the first girl to enter in the baking contest. This contest is open to any club member who has completed two years of Cooking and Housekeeping and is enrolled as a senior this year. This contest will be held at South Paris on July 30.

Two thousand Red or Norway Pine were set this year on the farm of L. C. Robinson, East Sumner. "This makes between fifteen and twenty thousand trees planted on the farm," says Mr. Bonney, who does the planting. The majority of the planting is Red Pine, but there are 2,000 or more Red Spruce.

Others who have done considerable planting are: E. B. Hastings, Fryburg, Ralph Kluckner, North Lovell, and R. N. Lovell, Hiram. E. B. Hastings has a planting of White, 10,000 White Pine made in 1916, which is in its initial thinning and pruning stage. This is one of the best stands in the county. These four men mentioned have plantings totaling over eighty acres.

"Pasture fertilizing pays me," says Earl Osgood, Fryburg. Last spring he used a double strength complete fertilizer, high in phosphorus as a starter, and this spring is using cyanamid, a nitrogen fertilizer at the rate of 200 pounds per acre, broadcast. Mr. Osgood is fertilizing nine acres of pasture and finds the extra feed at this time of year brings good returns through the milk pail.

Alfalfa plantings are looking good this spring. A recent visitor to the farm of Samuel and Warren Richardson, East Fryburg, showed two acres coming up evenly and looking nice and green. This piece was sown last spring and will aid materially in curing the grain bill because of its high protein content. Many well established plots in the county have proven alfalfa to be capable of growing here successfully. Other plots that might be mentioned are those of A. B. Talbot & Son, W. G. Knightly, A. P. Stearns, Jr., and E. B. Curtis, South Paris; Ernest Luxton and Stephen Abbott, Bethel; F. H. Morse & Son, and Charles Hickey, Waterford; E. C. Frost, Rumford; E. E. Swain, Roxbury, and F. T. Stetson, East Sumner.

L. C. Stevens, Crops Project Leader at Bethel, has done much to make possible carloads of lime for farmers in his community. They had a carload of ground limestone last year and have already received a carload of twenty-four tons of the same material this spring. In addition to this carload, E. C. Smith, West Bethel, purchased an entire carload himself.

REDDING AND SHAGG POND
John Redding sold three cows last Saturday. They went to Springfield.

Keneth Cole, who has worked in Tebbet's mill at Locke Mills all winter, is now working in the Tebbet's mill in the Greenwoods, Sumner.

The members of the Community Welfare Club presented Mrs. Wallace Andrews, who is ill, with a pretty maybasket filled with good things, last Thursday evening.

Sunday callers at E. E. Cole's were Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Andrews, Lawrence and Thelma Andrews of Hartford, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Martin and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Cole of East Sumner.

Victor Terrio, who has been working away from home and is working for Geo. Redding. Welford Lapham was in Rumford on business a few days the first of the week.

There was a forest fire on D. H. Robinson's farm, Monday afternoon. Help was a hard fight to get it put out for several hours, and they watched it all night to see that it did not break out again.

BRIDGTON HIGHLANDS

The Bridgeway was the arena for a gay gathering last Saturday night. Those present being Mrs. Claire Eddy, Mr. and Mrs. Guyle Mercer, Mrs. Charles Wiggins, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Foster, Mrs. Charlotte Stuart, Dr. Wm. Carreiro and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Robinson. Dancing, games and stunts filled a delightful evening and the company left with a hearty invitation to come again.

Miss Pamela Wiggins has gone to West Newton, Mass., where she has a position. Herbert Allen had great success fishing one night last week. He gave the writer a sucker weighing three pounds.

The Abbotts of Tarry-a-Whim are making the farm house one of the most attractive on the Ridge. White with green trimmings and the colonial doorway with a fan light and long side lights is really beautiful.

Wint Soule was a Sunday visitor in Oxford, calling on his uncle, Oscar Bradford, whose fine home was destroyed by fire in the late winter.

John Hyde and family from California have hired the farm house belonging to the Gibbs estate and are repairing the house, also are laying out an extensive piece of land for planting. We are all glad to see this house occupied after so many years vacancy.

Elden Drown is employed on the state road leading to Sweden. Mrs. Fitzpatrick and Miss Velma were callers at the Bridgeway and on Mrs. Drown one day last week.

Phil Fitzpatrick has left for Portland with young Nichols, who will take part in a boxing bout. Nichols hopes some day to be a champion.

Arthur Flint of the Upper Ridge has just returned from a most enjoyable fishing trip at Moosehead Lake. With him were George Thompson, Delmont Hawkes and Herman Lamb. When these four get together there is little hope of losing a bait; during the trip many deer were seen. Were it not for the law the residents of the Highlands would be treated to venison.

WEST SUMNER—PLEASANT POND

Stetson Tuell and daughter, Emily, were recent guests at Mrs. Ellen Ames'. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chandler were at Hanover, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Emery are guests of her parents. Mrs. Charles Roberts went to Auburn to visit her sister, Mrs. Richard McWilliams, last week. While there she was obliged to go to the St. Mary's Hospital for treatment. She expects to be there about ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Swift, Harold Abbott and daughter, Irene, were Sunday callers at Emery Ryerson's.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Buckman and little son were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elden Garey, Saturday.

Members of Pleasant Pond Grange met at the Grange Hall last Tuesday to clean the house. They cleaned the upper hall, ante rooms and kitchen. At the regular Grange meeting, Wednesday, they omitted the literary program and finished cleaning the hall.

Pauline and Frances Blaquiere and Mr. and Mrs. Richard McWilliams were weekend guests at Charles Roberts'. Mrs. Elden Garey and daughter, Elizabeth, were at Norway, recently, where Elizabeth had dental work done.

Mr. and Mrs. Elden Garey and daughters, Mrs. Charles and Mrs. A. D. Foster, daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chandler met with Mr. and Mrs. Guy Emery, at their new home near Locke Mills, Sunday. They enjoyed a picnic dinner under the twin pines near the house.

The Health Nurse visited Pleasant Pond school, recently and delivered health pins to six of the pupils. Those who received pins were Emma Ryerson, Loren Taskash, Nellie Trask, Robert Gleason, Maurice Hadley and Emery Ryerson, Jr. We are pleased to have so many health pins in the community. It is the duty of the health nurse to do this. It shows the citizens of the town what good a health nurse can do in any school. We hope that money can be raised in the near future to enable the children to have the benefit of a health doctor.

GILEAD

Mrs. Joseph Chabot has gone to the St. Louis Hospital, Berlin, N. H., for treatment. Alvin Aubin has moved his family to their farm in Percy, N. H.

Dangerous Diseases successfully treated by naturopathy. Diseases of every form: Acute, chronic, simple or complex (Exophthalmic), Spanish Influenza, Asthma, Hay Fever, and Whooping Cough, Croup, and Enlarged Prostate.

This is a most formidable list of complaints, but Dr. Stephenson has successfully treated every one of these diseases.

Progress is constantly being made in every field of activity. In funeral merchandise, for example, new improvements are introduced from year to year for the purpose of lightening the grief of the bereaved and making the funeral service more dignified and impressive. It is our business to keep up with these innovations, and we see to it that the people of this community have the benefit of the latest advancements at all times.

The Junior High baseball team will play game 7-2 at South Plains, Tuesday afternoon. The high school track team goes to Amarillo, Saturday, May 28, to participate in the County track meet.

Last Saturday, in spite of the independent weather, the first of the County Play Days for girls was held at South Plains. The events occupied the whole day and the success of the affair was very evident. Each high school in the county was represented by ten girls. The following were Jenny Albright, Elizabeth Nelson, Dorothy Galt, Arlene Hunt, Christine Nelson, Dorothy Galt, Margaret Anderson, Margaret Hill, Margaret Madsen, and Winifred Dunham. The school which had the most girls on the team was South Plains. A team consisted of one girl from each school represented. The Norway girl on the winning team was Arlene Hunt and Margaret Madsen. The team which finished second place, Amarillo, had the following girls on the team. Ribbons were awarded these girls. This completes all athletic activities for the girls for this scholastic year.

The following have been A. O. T. certificate holders: Dorothy A. Dargatz, Cora L. Brown, Winola Kinnall, Norma Wilber-by Barker, George W. Hall, G. F. Priddy and W. H. Shaw. The following have won Typist certificates: Ernest J. Lufkin, who had five errors, 43 net words, and Elsie Wheeler, who had four errors, 42.4 net words.

In the state typewriting contest, Norway won one point. Daniel Dulles took third place in Senior A typewriting division.

Paris Wins Dual Meet
At Oxford County Fair Grounds

South Paris edged Norway off the mark by placing two boys in the top for second place in the pole vault. The last one out was the card. Elmer Sorenson was South Paris 54 2-3 points, Norway 53 1-3 points.

The annual field events for the male athletes was held on Oxford County fair grounds last late Friday afternoon, and was one of the closest and most exciting contests ever put up by the two high schools. Point making was evenly divided throughout the meet, the successful Norwegian practically a one man show. Norway won points in which (Olin of Norway won

GRADE PUPILS GAVE COLORFUL SHOW

The playlet, "When Betsy Ross Made Old Glory," by the fifth and sixth grades, filled Norway Grange Hall, Friday evening with an appreciative audience. Both programs were in charge of Mrs. Ruby Briggs, superintendent of music this year. The colorful costumes were featured when Betsy Ross and her advisers, including lilies, gladioli and pansies represented by children in colorful costumes with Francis Andrews, the versatile Irish giant. Every part had been carefully rehearsed and the real ability displayed hinted Norway has plenty of vocal and dramatic talent. In the bud. Singing by the "gang" and the "circle" drew encores and was good.

Two selections were played by the now famous Rhythm band with Little Janet Thompson director.

Those taking part in the first were Gordon (Gordon), Robert Everett, Glendon Smith, Harry Palmer, Jeanette Downing, Mary Greenlaw, Marion Verenis, Elizabeth Herriek. The third grade chorus was the "Sea Ton", and the fourth grade the "Indian Chorus". The solo parts in the second were Martha Hosmer, as Aunt Drusilla; Elmer Easton, Marion Chute, Francis Andrews, Wilfred Morin, and Selskey and the first grade were the boys of the two grades made up of the "gang" and the girls the circle.

The Pleasant Street bridge across the outlet of the lake was replanked, Monday. Mrs. Charles Andrews of Augusta was a week end guest of her sisters, Mrs. Florence Bradbury.

Three new stalls for autos have been recently built on the rear of the Norway Auto Co. garage.

A house party was entertained by Miss Marjorie Welch over the week end at a cottage at Lake Umbagog, Tuesday. The group of guests were the Misses Eleanor Wood, Josephine Rand, Katherine Cleman, Evelyn Sawyer, Daphne Winslow and Helen Rigney.
